

Can death become a teacher and a friend, as we explore issues of intimacy and belonging, our relationship with our deepest values, and greatest fears, and how we meet the living truth of every moment?

This spring, please join us on a journey of dialogue, exploration, and discovery, through this territory where tenderness, heartbreak, deep love, fear and gratitude all live, side-by-side, in the landscape.

On this journey, we are all teachers and students, walking mindfully, inviting deeper listening, and supporting one another.
